Church Copyright Licence

PROJECT AND REPRODUCE SONGS

The CCLI Church Copyright Licence provides legal coverage for all the typical copying activities that assist congregational singing.

Project

Project song lyrics stored on a computer or digital device

Print

Copy, type and print songs in song and service sheets

Arrange

Create vocal or instrumental arrangements and translations of songs where no published version exists

Record

Audio and video record services, including the live music, for limited distribution (e.g. those unable to attend)

The Benefit to You

With licence fees based on your average attendance, the Church Copyright Licence is the affordable and convenient alternative to seeking direct permission from the copyright owners of every song you wish to copy or reproduce.

Licence Coverage

- >> The Church Copyright Licence covers more than 500,000 worship songs and hymns from 3,500 publishers and song owners worldwide
- >> It protects over 250,000 churches, schools and organisations worldwide

REPORTING

CCLI relies on licence holders to report the songs they use in order to fairly apportion royalties to copyright owners. Under the terms of the Church Copyright Licence, churches are required to regularly report their song usage using CCLI's Online Reporting website.

ADDITIONAL COVER OPTIONS

The CCLI Music Reproduction Licence

Since a separate right exists in typeset pages, the supplementary Music Reproduction Licence is required to legally photocopy, scan or file-share many music publications and sheet music files.

SongSelect

SongSelect is an online database of downloadable song resources. Available to Church Copyright Licence holders, it features convenient access to the authorised lyrics and transposable chord, lead and multi-part vocal sheets for thousands of worship songs.

What's the cost?

The Church Copyright Licence is available as an annual or 14-day event licence. For licence fees visit: ccli.com/copyright-licences
